To Whom It May Concern:

For several years, Martika Daniels has presented her one woman side show at our festival to great acclaim and excited audiences. Our festival is an outdoor street performer festival and we select artists not just on their skills but their level of professionalism in dealing with weather, crowds and production issues. Martika has always been a true professional and gone out of her way to make sure people are entertained.

She makes us look good and we appreciate it. I have no doubt she will bring that level of service to each engagement she has.
